On April 5, 2018, after due notice, the Department of Consumer Protection, Liquor Control Commission, held a formal administrative hearing on a question of Sec. 30-39(c) of the Connecticut General Statutes. No remonstrants appeared to oppose the application, although proper notice was provided.

Based upon the substantial evidence and testimony provided at the hearing, the Department of Consumer Protection finds the applicant and location are suitable. The remonstrance is dismissed and your final liquor permit is granted, subject to any outstanding agent's requirements.
