As Utah continues to experience unprecedented growth, the DOT has developed Travel-Wise - a set of strategies to encourage their residents to use alternative forms of transportation to driving alone. The state of Utah encourages businesses, individuals, communities and organizations to implement TravelWise in an effort to reduce energy consumption, optimize mobility, and improve air quality. The Clear the Air Challenge is a month long competition starting July 1st that gives Utahans the chance to reduce their vehicle emissions by choosing alternative methods of transportation using TravelWise strategies. To promote the use of TravelWise strategies participants in the challenge are eligible for weekly and grand prize drawings by meeting achievable transportation goals.
